Wellington to his soldiers just before the attle of Waterloo and history tells us how well they obeyed. The same advice migroperly be given to every living man this time. There are many men who wo do their whole duty in time of war or great need, but who sadly neglect in times of peace; they would gladly risk their lives such great occasion, neglect their pla simple duty to their God, their families at themselves. It is not for want of hon nor because they do not love their families but from pure neglect; as an instance statistics compiled by the national authori-ties show that more deaths result from bowel complaints than any other one cause, except consumption, yet not more than one family in six are provided with medicines that will relieve or cure the dis-
